

we improve your road

Roberto Nuti founded the group in 1962 in the name of the values which still represent basic fundamentals for the staff of all our companies: seriousness, carefully listening to clients, maximum client satisfaction, constant commitment to product quality, the courage to innovate looking to the future, respect for people and quality in the working environment.

These values express the noblest and most enlightened Italian business culture as well as our country's great mechanical engineering and motoring tradition.

The Roberto Nuti Group is made up of women and men who share the same values on an everyday basis and are committed to making your journey safer and more comfortable along the multitude of routes you'll travel.

Our headquarters is at the heart of Italy's Motor Valley, where Mechanical engineering has been synonymous with Culture for generations.

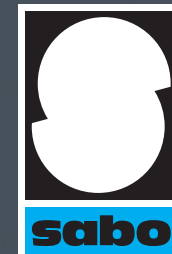

The carefully designed SABO shock absorber can count on decades of experience and client feedback which have contributed to achieving a spare part that can make up for many of the problems brought on by the wear that industrial vehicles are subjected to over time.

The SABO shock absorber is perfectly interchangeable with the originals of all major brands of lorries, trailers and buses. Our designers and production lines are also able to create personalised products for clients and to deal with technical specifications of original equipment supplies.

We produce air springs and cabin shock absorbers

at our Sabo Suspension System plant in Bursa, Turkey.

As with all SABO brand products they are guaranteed to be interchangeable with original parts, are long-lasting and have an excellent cost/quality ratio.

SUSPENSION SYSTEM

The correct balancing of the shock absorbers and air springs enables the entire suspension to provide maximum performance in terms of comfort and safety for commercial vehicles, making up for many of the inefficiencies caused by wear to the vehicle.

Sabo Hema Automotive Ltd is based in Gurgaon, near New Delhi. The company is a joint venture between Roberto Nuti Spa and the Indian group Hema Engineering Industries Ltd and was set up with the aim of becoming ever more competitive on the international markets. The shock absorbers made in Gurgaon are designed in Italy and are manufactured with the know-how and great attention to quality and to long-lasting reliability which has always distinguished our production. Italian standards are maintained in our production plants in India both in the working environment and in terms of health and safety. Moreover, the identity and cultural or religious traditions of the employees are respected.

Roberto Nuti Spa, a marketing company within our group, is the exclusive distributor for Italy of MEI automatic slack adjusters and PILOT driver seats.

MEI automatic slack adjusters can be installed on the majority of European trailers and nearly all European buses and lorries. They are interchangeable with the majority of automatic slack adjusters currently in use and, with the appropriate configuration, can be applied to all braking systems controlled by S-shaped camshafts.

PILOT produces a wide range of seats for industrial and commercial vehicles, buses and construction equipment. The company is also able to produce seats to meet customer specifications, adhering to the ISO 9002 regulation and verifying that the final product conforms to standards by means of rigorous German TÜV testing.

Mupo is a historic brand of suspensions for race and sports motorcycles. The company has been present in the pit lanes of international race tracks for decades, having been chosen by numerous riders and champions from all categories.

The precious know-how gained by the Mupo technicians over decades of race track experience is poured back into the product, which is created and tested piece by piece, with the aim of guaranteeing high performance and safety.

All Mupo products are assembled with great care and using the most advanced technologies available for the manufacturing, treating and coating of materials.

Alongside the historic range of sports and race products, Mupo also plays a prominent role in the market for suspensions for the major brands of road bike and scooter.

Our race and extreme conditions parts undergo strict testing in our laboratories as well as very tough stress tests.

Quality in all procedures, all stages of manufacturing and for the environment are a substantial and intrinsic value of all our products. Our companies are proud holders of UNI EN ISO 9001:2000, UNI EN ISO 14001:2004 certification and of EMAS certification.
